EDITO

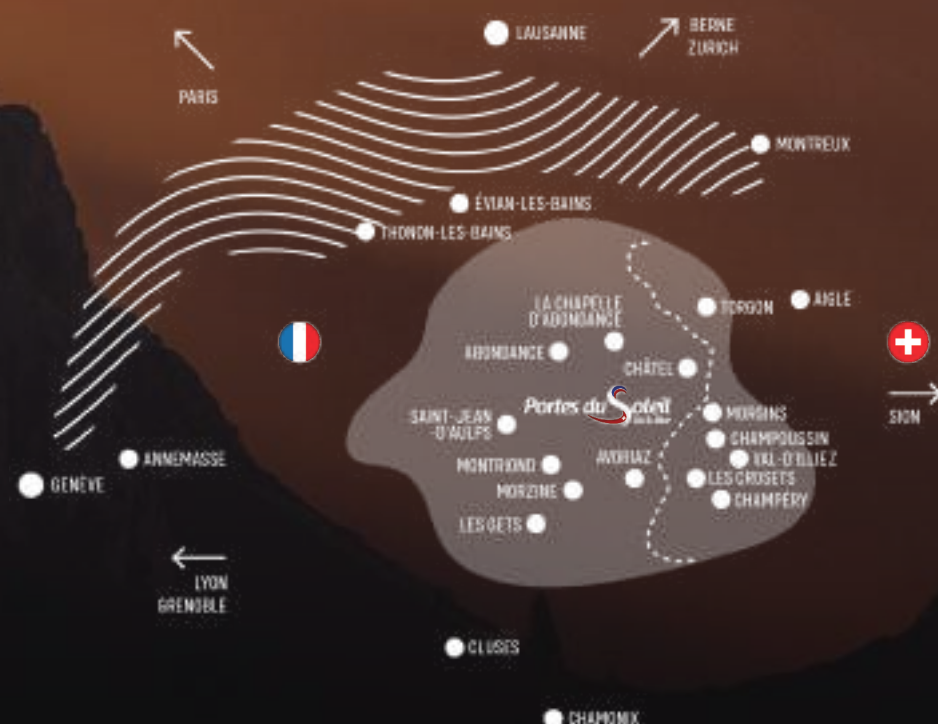

Located between Lake Geneva and Mont Blanc, 1 hour from Geneva, Les Portes du Soleil is one of the largest cross-border ski (skiable in winter and mountain biking in summer), with 12 linked resorts between France and Switzerland: Abondance, Avoriaz 1800, Champéry, Châtel, La Chapelle d'Abondance, Les Gets, Montriond, Morgins, Morzine-Avoriaz, Saint-Jean d'Aulps, Torgon, Val-d'Illeiez - Les Crosets - Champoussin.

While each of these 12 resorts-villages is unique - some trendy and festive, others unspoilt - together they form a destination that is both supportive and definitely sporty. The different villages are linked by numerous itineraries, which can be accessed with or without lifts.

FEELING VERY SMALL IN THE FACE OF THE IMMENSITY OF THE PORTES DU SOLEIL!

With the return of spring, the mountains shed their snowy mantle to make way for vast green meadows, dotted with splashes of color, including the shutters of typical chalets and the wild flowers of the alpine pastures.

The ski slopes now give way to bike parks and various cross-country bike and pedestrian routes. As sporty as ever, the destination offers a whole new range of activities: hiking, mountain biking, via ferrata, trail running, yoga, etc. The possibilities for exploring the Portes du Soleil are endless.

And thanks to a single lift pass for all 12 resorts, access to the summits is child's play! It's the perfect opportunity to enjoy a sporty yet rejuvenating getaway in the heart of nature.

A JOURNEY OF THE SENSES

WHEN THE ACCENT MOVES TO THE BORDER

Cross-border or bi-national... we're all going to have our say, but Les Portes du Soleil is an area that straddles 2 countries. Here, the sun rises in Switzerland and sets in France, unless it's the other way around... But one thing's for sure: the change of scenery knows no borders!

Between France and Switzerland majestic panoramas and travel possibilities!

Two countries, two currencies, two ways of life, one language with different melodious accents, but the same love of the mountains. And the 12 typical or avant-garde village-resorts that make up this territory have managed to retain the charm of life at altitude.

The special location of the destination means that holidaymakers can travel by any means of transport - bike, foot or run - thanks to the ski lift connections. A journey within a journey, beyond borders, inviting you to take a stroll in the countryside, or a contemplative, sporting or tasty walk, for young and old alike... There's something for everyone in the Portes du Soleil! #BeyondBorders

So, in the heart of a destination that is both international and borderless, where the differences between France and Switzerland are gradually disappearing, we call on our 5 senses to distinguish:

The 5 senses, each in their own way, offer us a unique connection to the world around us, enabling us to perceive, interpret and live each moment with intensity.

Salanfe hot springs + An alpine wellness bath

Located in the heart of the Swiss mountains, the Salanfe hot spring offers a unique relaxation experience.

These mineral-rich thermal waters, renowned for their soothing properties, have been used for centuries for their medicinal and wellness benefits.

THERMAL BATHS

Touch, the sense of contact and sensation, allows us to feel the world's warmth, texture and soul.

A sensory journey that plunges visitors into a world where touch is at the heart of the experience, thanks to a wealth of geothermal resources.

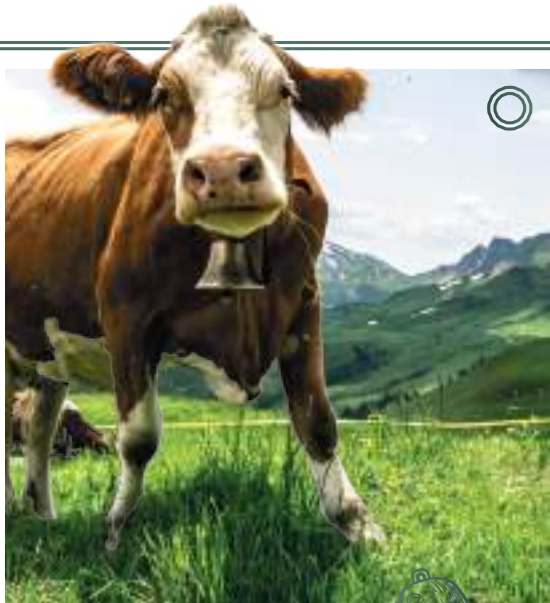

The cold waters of the Abondance and Morzine Dranse The invigorating freshness of the Alps

At the other end of the scale, the springs of the Dranse provide a sensation of intense, invigorating freshness. These rivers, fed by snowmelt offer a much colder temperature, typical of alpine environments, where the water remains pure, clear and ice-cold.

Almost 50km long, the Dranse is one of the three most sporty rivers in France, offering rafting, kayaking, canoeing, hydrospeed and canyoning! It's a symbol of authenticity and power of nature, evoking an invigorating energy.

* hearing *

Hearing, the subtle sensor of sound vibrations, connects us to the rhythms of the world and the voices that populate it.

The emblematic sound of the Alps, especially in summer, is the sound of herd bells quietly grazing in the pastures. This tinkling, sometimes melodious, sometimes noisy, recalls ancestral mountain traditions.

The Abondance cow 🇫🇷 A soft, steady melody

The Abondance cow, a native of the Abondance valley, is recognizable not only by its brown and white coat, but also by the gentle tinkling of the bell that accompanies its steps.

This soft, steady sound evokes the tranquility and harmony of the mountains, bringing a sense of serenity to those who hear it.

COW

The Hérens cow 🇨🇭 A bell with a deeper and powerful tone

In contrast, the Hérens cow, a typical Alpine breed from the Valais region of Switzerland, carries a deeper, more vibrant bell.

The Hérens cow, known for its robust temperament and majestic silhouette, exudes a certain strength, and its bell ringing reflects this power.

* smell *

The sense of smell, the detector of scents, awakens deep emotions and buried memories, linking our spirit to our environment.

The Alps, whether French or Swiss, are a veritable alpine garden, where nature exhales its unique fragrances by rare and fascinating flowers.

Among these, edelweiss and gentian stand out not only for their beauty, but also for their distinctive scents, which impregnates the fresh mountain air.

Edelweiss 🇨🇭 A scent of altitude

The edelweiss, flower of the peaks, symbolizes the soul of the Alps. Its little white star, growing on steep rocks, gives off a subtle, delicate fragrance, often described as slightly musky fresh and herbaceous. This fragrance, which seems to trap the pure mountain air, is an invitation to the majesty of the Swiss mountains.

AND PAS DE LA BIDE

Gentian 🇫🇷 An invigorating fragrance

For its part, gentian, emblematic of the French Alps unfolds a more robust, invigorating scent. Its blue flowers, sometimes tinged with shades of violet, exhale a fragrance that evokes fresh grass and mountain woods. Its scent recalls the authenticity of the mountains.

* taste *

Taste, the explorer of flavours, invites us to savour the moment and discover the richness of culinary pleasures.

Among the treasures of Alpine gastronomy, two cheeses stand out for their uniqueness: Abondance, the tasty ambassador of the French Alps, and Valais raclette, an authentic specialty of the Swiss Alps.

These two cheeses, though of different origins, embody the spirit of their terroir and are a real treat for the taste buds.

Abondance cheese 🇫🇷

A taste of refined terroir

Originally from the Abondance valley, this pressed cooked cheese is distinguished by its mild, fruity, slightly spicy taste. Its subtle aroma, enriched by the herbs from Alpine pastures, makes it an ideal accompaniment to traditional Savoy dishes, such as fondue or tartiflette. Its finesse makes for a smooth, flavoursome taste experience.

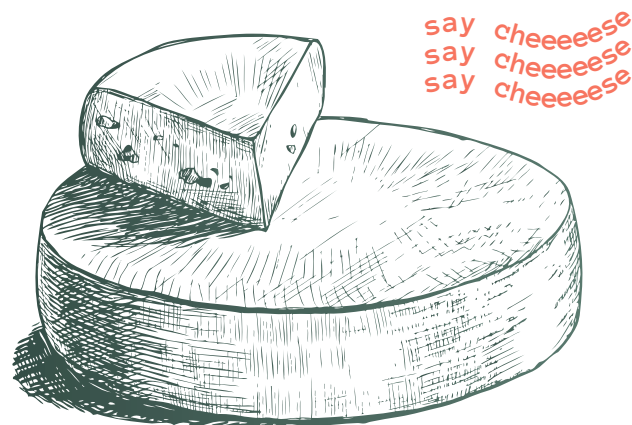

YOU ARE AT THE RESTAURANT "L'ESSERT 1382" IN ABONDANCE OR AT THE FARM INN "CHEZ DENIS" IN CHÂTEL

Valais raclette 🇨🇭

A melt-in-the-mouth delicacy and generous

In Switzerland, Valais raclette is a true symbol of conviviality and sharing. This semi-hard cheese, originating from the Valais mountains is distinguished by its powerful aromas, smooth texture and golden rind. Its more pronounced, slightly fruity taste contrasts with the mildness of Abondance, creating a more robust taste experience.

YOU ARE AT THE CANTINE DE BARMASZ IN THE HEART OF THE WILD VALLEY OF THEY OR AT THE "CAVAGNE" IN TROISTORRENTS

Facing Mont Blanc 🇫🇷

The majesty of the inaccessible

Mont Blanc, at 4,806 metres, is undoubtedly one of the most emblematic and recognizable peaks in the Alps. To stand before this giant is to be in the presence of a natural grandeur, inviting the eye to travel through its glaciers, sharp and majestic slopes. This view evokes both the raw power of nature and infinite serenity.

* view *

Sight, the first gateway to the outside world, enables us to perceive the beauty and diversity of the forms that surround us.

One of the greatest privileges of the Alps is in the spectacular beauty of its panoramas.

Whether you're in France or Switzerland, the view is an unforgettable experience, that immerses anyone observing it in a veritable natural tableau.

Facing the Dents du Midi 🇨🇭

Wild and imposing beauty

On the other side, the Dents du Midi, the mythical mountains of the Valais region, with their tapering ridges and silhouette. This panorama, steeper and more austere, offers a vision of the mountains in all their rugged beauty, with sharp ridges and towering cliffs that seem to defy time and the elements. The Dents du Midi, both powerful and mysterious, offer a captivating visual experience.
